Free Quarterly Magazine - filled with educational articles, updates from the PDFA, news about the industry and much more.

Fall Consignment Sale - Members consign semen as well as animals. A trade show accompanies the sale.

Educational Meetings - Periodically the association holds centrally-located educational meetings for the membership on a variety of important topics. Past seminars have featured speakers from the PA Dept. of Agriculture and veterinarians who are knowledgeable in the field of cervid health.

Spring Annual Meeting and Benefit Sale -

At this event, your officers and directors are elected and an auction is held with the proceeds benefiting the association. Informational seminars are given about the industry. Booth spaces are available at the trade show for a fee. Lunch is provided at no charge.

The Pennsylvania Deer Farmers Association belongs to and participates in the following associations:

The Ag Council is comprised of organizations, groups, and businesses that represent a strategic agricultural or related interest in Pennsylvania.

The Penn State Agricultural Council was formed in 1961 as the primary forum for interaction between the College and its industry clientele. It allows members to stay informed and provide feedback on college programs, activities, and opportunities.

NADeFA® is dedicated to the promotion of deer farming and ranching as an agricultural pursuit and serves its members through its educational programs and publications and by providing leadership in setting and maintaining quality standards.

As a grassroots organization and leader for the agriculture industry, Pennsylvania Farm Bureau advances the economic and educational interests of our members through advocacy before government and relationship building, while offering high value programs and services to sustain membership growth and remain financially secure.

Our Mission

The Pennsylvania Deer Farmers Association has a clear mission for its members to; Preserve, Protect and Promote Pennsylvania's quality cervid industry.

Over the past ten year we have striven to provide educational opportunities for our members through the sharing of informative information, to educate the general public and others about our growing cervid industry.

We also have a collective voice in our state's capitol of Harrisburg, Pa in governmental and other issues that may benefit or adversely affect the cervid industry.

The PDFA always puts forth the promotion of the highest ethical standards in the care, handling, and harvesting of Pennsylvania's cervids.

In closing we insist that our membership operate legal, honest, and forthright operations in conjunction with fellow members, cervid producers and the general public.

The PDFA will continue to work diligently to improve our great cervid industry within our state and expand opportunities' for its membership to prosper in the future.

Fair Chase Hunting Ranch Code of Ethics

8/12/09

PURPOSE: To enhance and promote the profession of managing and hunting big game species on privately owned hunting ranches. These hunting ranches must maintain a safe hunting environment and provide high standards of ethical conduct while promoting responsible management practices and the communication of this code of ethics to consumers and other key constituents.

GLOBAL GOAL – To provide the client with a positive and safe hunting experience while ensuring the welfare of the animals.

ETHIC #1 - The personal safety of owners, guides and the guests visiting the hunting ranch is of paramount importance. All hunting equipment and ammunition should be kept appropriately and in a safe manner at all times.

ETHIC #2 - The facilities provided and the management action undertaken should ensure and maintain the welfare and well being of the animals within the hunting ranch.

ETHIC #3 - The hunting ranch operator should only hunt in or offer an environment of fair chase hunting which should be defined as hunting in any area by any appropriate method which provides the hunted animal a reasonable chance and opportunity to elude the hunter.

ETHIC #4 - The method of hunting employed on hunting ranches should ensure that the animal is hunted in a responsible and ethical manner, and should take every precaution as is reasonable to ensure that the meat and products of any animal is fully utilized.

ETHIC #5 - Appropriate fences should be designed, constructed and maintained to safely prevent the ingress and egress of big game animals on the hunting ranch.

ETHIC #6 - Venison harvests or the dispatching of sick animals should not be referred to as hunting.

ETHIC #7 - The hunting ranch operator should maintain proper records and follow all State and Federal laws pertaining to hunting ranches within their state.

ETHIC #8 - Hunting ranches should accurately represent the hunting opportunities offered to the client.

ETHIC #9 - All advertising and promotional materials provided by the hunting ranches should responsibly convey a positive image consistent with ethical hunting.

ETHIC #10 - Hunting ranch operators should take every opportunity to promote a positive image to the general public and participate in programs to provide harvested animals to people in need.

ETHIC #11 - The hunting ranch operator, guide and hunter should exhibit personal actions and ethics that strive for the betterment and preservation of hunting and conservation.

new CWD application.

The Department would like to remind you of certain requirements regarding the Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) program and update you on certain changes to the program.

The new CWD Quarantine Order is now in effect. The changes of program information for herds enrolled in the CWD Herd Certification Program (HCP) include: those that fail to meet the program requirements for mandatory testing (paragraph 8(d)), identification of subject animals (paragraph 8(g)), ongoing record-keeping requirement (paragraph 8(h)), or any other aspect of the HCP Program. Those not meeting these requirements may be removed from enrollment in the HCP program and may be enrolled in a level of the CWD Herd Monitored Program (HMP) as determined by the Department.

There have been several herds that status has been dropped. You should be very careful when purchasing your deer. You can call Mary Martin to check on the status. Upon your yearly inspection, the field staff will review the changes of the Quarantine Order with you and require a signature to acknowledge receipt of this information.

Intrastate transportation of live cervids from a Herd Monitored Program (HMP)

Live cervids may be transported intrastate to a shooting preserve or slaughter facility without having to meet the CWD testing requirement. Please remember the requirement to have these animals officially identified prior to transport and to include in your inventory when the animal left, the ID of the cervid and where it went.

Also, if you are enrolled in the HCP program and cannot meet the identification requirements, you may choose to switch to the HMP by filling out a

Escapes

We would like to remind all of the CWD program participants that any captive cervids which escape or are removed from a herd, or any wild CWD-susceptible cervids which gain entrance into a captive herd must be reported to the Department immediately.

If the escaped cervid is returned into a HCP herd within one week of the escape, there will be no change in status of the herd. If the cervid is out for more than a week and put back into the HCP herd, the status of the herd will go to first year and the anniversary date will become the date the cervid was returned to the HCP herd. You should also contact your local PA Game Commission office to report the escape to them and avoid a possible fine.

One other option to consider if the cervid is not captured within one week would be to place the deer into a separate pen and start another herd with first year status thus maintaining the status of the existing herd.

We appreciate the efforts of all the deer farmers that have taken the time to learn the responsibilities of the CWD program and getting their herds in compliance (having official id, testing for CWD, annual inventory submitted, prompt reporting of escapes and untestables).

The department has made every effort to notify owners of cervids to contact us in the event of escapes or untestables, therefore, status will be lowered to the date of the occurrence for future escapes/untestables that are not reported immediately.

Reporting death losses (untestable sample?)

The Department would also like to remind all cervid farmers that any time they discover a dead captive cervid that qualifies as an animal that should be tested for CWD they need to contact their regional veterinarian immediately so that we can decide if that cervid is testable.

Reporting fawns

Please put your fawn additions on the inventory sheets the year they are born that you submit your annual report. For example, if your inventory is due November 2011, the 2011 fawns must be on it. If your inventory is due March 2011, the 2010 fawns should be on it. A lot of times, inventory reports do not show the fawns until the following year. This is unacceptable due to the fact that when they are sold, the person may submit their inventory before you do. All fawns must be included, even if the fawn is given away and not sold.

Premise Identification

Please note the premise identification number next to the name of the person you are buying or selling your animals to. This will be helpful in making sure the animals get placed in the right inventory.

Official Identification

The deadline for HCP participants to have their animals identified with two forms of identification (one official and a farm tag that is unique and individual to the animal and herd or two official) was June 1, 2009. There are still herds that are not in compliance. These herds will be notified of the date their status will be lowered due to non compliance. As a reminder, you can switch to HMP if you cannot meet this requirement IF you do not move your animals anywhere but to a preserve or slaughter facility.

Thank you for working with the Department of Agriculture to maintain a nationally respected CWD surveillance program in captive cervids within the Commonwealth
